A Recap of the 43rd Annual Law Day Golf Tournament

Aloha,

Eagles and birdies. I hope that introduction has you thinking about being out of the office in the fresh air but I am not referring to bird watching. I am talking about golf; pars, bogies, fellowship and friendly competition.

The HSBF proudly put on the 43rd Annual Law Day Golf Tournament earlier this month. 110 golfers, many who have played in every prior tournament, teed up their golf balls on a beautiful, sunny, trade wind blustery day at the Mamala Bay Golf Course at Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam. Playing conditions were tough this year and the overall scoring was some of the highest ever seen in this proud tournament. I congratulate all of the winning golfers.

But more so, I want to express my deep gratitude to the golfers who continue to support this tournament by signing up and playing. Golf is all about tradition and a serious effort was made to uphold and honor the wonderful memories this tournament has garnered over the years. In 1972, a collaboration of interested groups led by Air Force General Morton Gold came together to establish what is one of Hawaii's longest running golf tournaments. It is very fitting that this year's Grand Champion is Kerry Ahn, a member of the Korean Golf Club, one of the original collaborators.

On behalf of the Foundation, a huge mahalo to everyone, the golfers, staff of Mamala Bay, our fabulous volunteers, who made this year's tournament a successful event. The proceeds from the tournament will help fund grants that support projects like Courts in the Community and other civic education projects and community public service activities. I hope more of you will join us next year. See you on May 13, 2016 at Mamala Bay Golf Course!
